TWO AUTOISTS BEFORE BURGESS

Both Are Discharged After Being Warned Against Violations of Laws

BURGESS MAKES STATEMENT

Charged with violation of the automobile laws by not sounding their warning signals at corners, two autoists were before Burgess S. L. Woodward Thursday night for hearings. Both were discharged after warnings had been given. They were Dr. E. H. Garbisch and Dr. V. P. Vieslet. From Monongahela Thomas Bickerton was to have appeared for a hearing, but failed to show up. He will have a hearing later. Dr. Garbisch established that he was not driving his car at the time of the alleged violation, but that a licensed driver then had it out.

Burgess Woodward stated today that fair warning had been given, and each autoist as he is brought up is being informed that the second violation will mean a fine of $10 and costs.

THE LOVE ROUTE TO BE COYLE THEATRE ATTRACTION

The love story full of the charm and tenderness of a spring-time romance, with many unique effects is the Famous Players Film Company's four-part production of Edward Peple's romance of the ranch and the rail, "The Love Route," the current feature on the Paramount Program at the Coyle Theatre for Thursday, April 15.

A great number of stirring and exciting scenes makes this subject peculiarly adaptable to the screen.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF MAN FOUND ON ROAD

Patrick Laufer, a Dairyman of Ellsworth, Discovered With Bullet Hole in Head Thursday Evening—Coroner Investigating

The dead body of Patrick Laufer, soon discovered the bullet wound aged 60 employed on the dairy farm of the Ellsworth Coal company at bullet which had caused death had Ellsworth, was Thursday evening entered behind the right ear and found along the roadside near Manha's siding between Ellsworth and Cokeburg. It was at first believed the man was a victim of heart disease. Later investigation however, showed a bullet wound in the dead man's head and it is now believed he was either murdered or ended his own life with a revolver. No weapon has yet been found. Coroner James T. Heffernan is investigating today.

Laufer had recently been complaining of not feeling well and when his body was found by the roadside it was at once supposed he had died from an attack of heart trouble to which he had been subject. The body was removed to the morgue of J. V. McDonough at Beallsville to be prepared for burial. Mr. McDonough had lived at Ellsworth for a number of years, being employed on the dairy farm of the coal company.

On account of darkness it was not possible to make a thorough search of the vicinity in which the body was found but what search was made failed to disclose any revolver or other weapon. The idea that the man might have been slain in the furtherance of robbery was dispelled when it was noted that his clothing was in no wise disturbed and that there was the sum of about five dollars in his pocket. An effort will be made to prove certainly whether Laufer was the victim of foul play or died by his own hand.

The dead man was unmarried. He had lived at Ellsworth for a number of years, being employed on the dairy farm of the coal company.

BETTERMENT NOW GENERAL

Resumption at Ellsworth and Cokeburg Comes Soon After Orders to Start Vesta Mines at Fredericktown and Near Denboe

Following out orders received by Superintendent W. E. Lahm Thursday, the Ellsworth and Cokeburg coke ovens were put into operation today. This followed the resumption of the mines last week.

Within a short time close to 1,000 men will be employed at the coke plants, making 2,000 in all employed at the mines and the ovens.

Better conditions all the way through are reported by the Ellsworth Collieries company, which is a subsidiary concern of the Lackawanna Coal company. During the last several months, or really for more than a year the mines and ovens at Ellsworth and Cokeburg have not been operating to capacity. Within the last several months the mines have been operated in part to prevent a condition of want growing among the miners. It is expected that operations to full capacity will be possible within one month.

The announcement of bettered conditions at Ellsworth comes close after the announcement of the starting up of the Vesta mines. Next Monday Vesta No. 5 mine at Fredericktown will be opened to as nearly full capacity as possible, preparations for this resumption having been under way all this week. Near Denboe, which is south a short ways of West Brownsville, Vesta No. 6 mine is being opened.

THE QUESTION OF AGE.

In Montana women who desire to vote are reported to be perturbed over a ruling by the Attorney General that under the law when registering they will be required to "give their correct age." They had hoped to be permitted to vote on the statement that they were of "legal age." In New Jersey it is proposed to overcome suffragist embarrassment in this way by statute, women voters simply declaring they are "more than 21."

This tendency indicates a departure from "equality" right there; and yet it is upon the basis of equality that votes for woman are asked, says the Pittsburg Gazette Times. Why either a man or a woman should hesitate to acknowledge the fact as to age is beyond human ken to discover. Avoidance of confession does not alter the cold and clammy truth of the matter. In any event, there are circumstances in which age is an important factor.

If not vital. To demand a statement specific as to number of years does not imply idle curiosity of heartless acquisition. Savings banks ask a depositor's age as one—and an essential means of averting false representation and mistaken identity. If a woman, on opening an account, says she is 50, and thereafter another woman who manifestly is about 25, appears to make withdrawal, even though the signature apparently be genuine, the fraud is evident at once—and the original depositor and bank are protected. Thus it is with the registration of voters. Ordinarily the act of registration completes the voter's qualification for an election. Yet suppose John Smith or Elmira Jones, registers as of 60 years, and neither goes to the polls, but two other persons, giving the same names and plainly not of age appear to vote—a glance at the list reveals the attempted deception in a flash.

Possibly it will be said that there is slight danger of women undertaking fraudulent voting. Men might and do do it, but suffragists will not; since when has man been a monopolist in gay deceiving? It must be admitted that women have their failings, and that some of them have been known to violate all the laws. Will an unscrupulous female voter care any more regard for a mere Section statute than for other statutes relating to person and property?

The age requirement contemplates no offense. It is not intended to keep voters away from the polls, but is meant to safeguard the purity of elections.

TIPS AND PORTERS

In "The Tip," a corporation is connected with a city hotel and a Pullman car porters. This is the case, and that the average wage of the skill & guardian of the sleeping car porter car is about $170 per month, a wage which allows him to live in a room away by his economy. Very likely the Pullman porters family takes in the company, rides in a limousine, attends expensive funerals and other giddy things on that bountiful salary, remarks an exchange.

The commission has discovered something else. It is a mystery which the public has long been trying to solve. Many times it has been sighted, but now it is in the open. Nothing else than the original tip. What is easier? If the Pullman company pays its porters an average wage of $27.50 per month, then most certainly the people have a right to blame the corporation for being the real originators of the Pullman tip.

But after all, the Pullman tip is one of the exhilarations of travel, and since the company has very generously provided it as proper remuneration for its employees, we will still smile when a shining quarter is passed to an ebony gentleman who has deftly found cinders and dust on a suit of clothes.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A youngster whose parents had taken him for the first time from his inland home to the seashore became interested in oysters. One day they were served at table on the half-shell and he asked, "Mother, what are these?"

"Oysters, dear. Raw oysters."

"Can you eat them—like that?"

"Oh, yes."

"Can I have one?"

"Why, yes if you want it."

He put the slippery thing into his mouth, but retained it there for experimentation. The attention of the company meanwhile was attracted elsewhere and when finally the mother turned again to her son his face had undergone a change.

"Would you like another oyster, dear?" she asked him.

For several seconds there was no reply. There seemed some difficulty of speech and only after a struggle was he able to gurggle: "I don't" (glub) "want this one."

The lanky youth who occupied a seat in a passenger coach persisted in sticking his head and shoulders out of the window. The brakeman was passing through the coach and he touched the youth on the back.

"Better keep your head inside the window," advised the brakeman.

"I kin look out the winder if I want to," answered the youth.

"I k now you can," warned the brakeman. "But if you damage any of the ironwork on the bridges you'll pay for it."

The reason why a woman always cries when she hears good news is because she always thinks well he hears good news.

What has become of the old fashioned woman who used to have three bits before she could get a telegram?

Most married women seem to have the idea that it is necessary to prove a husband is to keep him in hot water all the time.

A woman who keeps a secret will be known of, but a man who keeps a secret will be known of.

A lot of the little ladies who expect to be the stars of the show are now operating a 1914 movie business.

When a girl gets back from a trip friend and husband is so glad to see her that he meets her at the train and kisses her. And he kisses her by the nose and is tickled as a boy with a new rifle. But about two days later he is kissing with her again.

When a man has no show in home he can always find a circus downtown.

As a rule, a man never has sense enough to marry a girl who has sense enough to make her own dresses.

Any time a girl snuggles up close enough to a man so that he notices how fragrant her hair is he is a goner.

The old-fashioned man who worked his way through college is now working his son's way through college.

Never judge a man by his clothes. Wait until you see how his wife is dressed.

Maybe this country would be better off if we printed more spelling books and less sheet music.

What does old Doc Stork care about eugenics? You may have noticed that the man with a face like a cement crusher who marries a woman whose nose resembles an old saddle often has handsome children and that the pretty man who marries a beautiful woman often has children who are so homely that they scare the babies in the neighborhood.

The fool men haven't much sense. But they prefer a coarse person who chews tobacco to a refined male individual who gives you the Chiantiqua salute when he sees you.

Approximately 245 Gallons of Perfectly Good Liquor Emptied Into Sewer When Kammerer Estate Executors Get Busy.

There was wailing and gnashing of teeth among the bibulously inclined of Washington county when 245 gallons of whiskey, ranging in age from 20 to 45 years, was poured into a sewer by John A. Howden and A. W. Morrison, executors of the estate of the late Joseph Kammerer, a former distiller of Nottingham township. In clearing up Kammerer's estate the executors struck a snag when they came upon the whiskey. Washington county being "dry," in that vicinity the executors to avoid running afoul of the law were unable to give away or sell the liquor. They were told by federal authorities the only thing to do was to throw the liquor away. The time and place was kept a secret.

The liquor was valued at nearly $2,000. Kammerer had not had a license for the last five years.

AMONG THE THEATRES

COYLE—CHARLEROI.

Two good Paramount pictures were shown at the Coyle Theatre during the week. Tuesday, Blanche Sweet, a motion picture favorite was featured in "The Warrens of Virginia." This picture was one dealing with Civil war times. It took up both sides of the question in an interesting manner. Many beautiful and historic places were pictured. Thursday Marshall Neilan, a new star of the Jesse Lasky company, won approval in "The Country Boy" a tale of the rural youth who sought fortune in the city but instead found knowledge and experience. The story is one of much value in teaching young people that the best place to win success is at home amid familiar surroundings. A number of good features have been booked for the coming weeks. Among these are "David Harum" with William H. Crane in the title role, which will be shown at the Coyle next Tuesday.

PALACE—CHARLEROI.

One of the best weeks of the season was experienced at the Palace theatre this week. Special attractions were numerous. On Monday Carlyle Blackwell was featured in "The High Hand," a picture released through the Alliance program company. The Shubert attraction for Wednesday was "Old Dutch." This was a comedy of the highest type with a laugh in every scene. Lew Fields the famous comedian enacted the leading role, that of a prosperous inventor who lost his purse at a large hotel and had to work to pay his bill. Three good vaudeville acts were presented the latter part of the week. They were: Cahill, Terrill and Romaine, singers and dancers, Lander and Kiscaden, comedians and Ola Edelburn a comedienne. Another good picture of the week was "On the Stroke of Twelve." Next Wednesday the attraction on the Shubert program will be Lillian Russell the well known actress in "Wildfire."

MAJESTIC—CHARLEROI.

The first week since the opening of the Majestic theatre, Fallowfield avenue's new amusement house, was in all respects a banner week. Special features were numerous and many good pictures were shown during the week. Monday the attraction was Dorothy Donnelly in "The Thief." Tuesday a variety program was presented, the chief numbers of which was "Saved by Himself," a three reel picture. Wednesday Beatriz Michelena was featured in "Salomé Jane," a play taken from the book "Salomé Jane's Kiss." On Thursday an excellent photo-play "An Eye for An Eye," was shown in five acts. Other good pictures of the week were "Sunset" on Friday and "Forgiven," or "The Jack of Diamonds" on Saturday. A number of other good pictures were shown including some excellent comedies. Several special features have been programmed for the coming week.

LYRIC—CHARLEROI.

The biggest feature of the entire week was that of the three reel picture, "The Silent Plea," a Vitagraph production. The picture tells a heart interest story. The characters were well portrayed and the acting was splendid. There were several other features of interest presented during the week. Among them was the two-reel Selig film, "Child of the Prairie." Another film of much interest, which was shown on Monday was that of the one-reel Kalem picture, "In Dutch." On Tuesday a one-reel Kalem picture, "The Banker's Doubt" was produced. A picture of much interest was "Ham the Villain Factory." "In the Hands of the Jury," was shown on Wednesday, together with the Hearst-Selig weekly. Manager Pennman has several good attractions booked ahead.

STAR—CHARLEROI.

Among the most interesting daily programs of the entire week at the Star theatre was that of Thursday. This was a comedy program, with four joyful comedies, two Edison and two Biograph. On Monday Manager Milton Crandall presented the Lubin film, "Greenbacks and Redskins" to appreciative audiences. On Tuesday his presentation was "Retrieving the Past," a two reel picture prepared and produced by the United Film company. Wednesday's show was featured by the film, "Twice Rescued," a Vitagraph production in two parts. Among other features of the week are "Double Deception," and a Saturday feature "Affinities."

Next Wednesday the first picture of the serial, "Runaway June" by George Randolph Chester will be shown.

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippenburg, Pa.—It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth." —Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 112 N. Penn Street, Shippenburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonies on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with serious lung trouble, it will pay to fully investigate Eckman's Alternative, a remedy which has caused many recoveries. One follows:

"I am a widow, living in Pitts, Pa.

"Gentlemen—I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1903 I had a cough, which grew worse and worse, and was accompanied by awful looking stuff, and later I had many hemorrhages, at one time three in three successive days. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and gradually never had another hemorrhage and entirely gone. I am perfectly well." (Abbreviated.)

(AMDAVIS) ANNIE F. LOUGHREAN—Eckman's Alternative is most effective in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and up-building the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitute. Small size, $1.00. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of remedies.

Miss Dora Veig, the smallest prima donna on the stage stands 34 inches in height.

has been there as an attraction in the He is expected to assume the interest of a long lost brother in the time she has appeared there in any presumed purchaser of railroad transportation, smile sweetly, benignly and schemely, and suavely inquire about the prominent headline feature Mr. Davis is booking other attractions of the first class. He announces the premier in Pittsburgh of the ticket selling business. The Lottie Collins, Jr., daughter of the ticket clerk is supposed to have a famous Lottie Collins who made the spic and span appearance that whole world dance to the haunting melody of "Ta Ra Ra Boom de Ay." Lottie Collins, Jr., moreover, bears a striking personal resemblance to the first Lottie Collins and on this account is singing among her numerous songs a ditty entitled, "You're a Pocket Edition of Your Mother Twenty Years Ago." A number of other good attractions have been booked by Mr. Davis.

Most people knew that some sort of regulations held with the Pennsylvania system, but the spring announcements of styles for railroad trainmen is just out, and ticket clerks, passenger brakemen and passenger conductors are expected to be "all there" in the dress line. Otherwise, well, otherwise, something might happen. Tan shoes are frowned upon by this carful railroad company and soiled collars are displeasing.
